

Posting Job Opportunities for GT Business Students

Thank you for your interest in recruiting our Georgia Tech business students. Depending on your staffing needs, we have several avenues for posting your career opportunities:

Full-time Permanent Jobs and Internships

- Register (for free) as an employer through the Georgia Tech job posting site, Career Buzz: <https://gatech-csm.symplicity.com/employers/>
- This site will allow you to:
 - Post jobs (internships and full-time positions)
 - Sign up to present an information session
 - Host on-campus interviews for all degree programs at Georgia Tech

Co-Op Program (alternating full-time employment and classes each semester)

- Register to become a co-op company, where each student works at least three full-time semesters (alternating with full-time school semesters).
- This program is great if you want students to really build on their experience with your organization, but the schedule is predetermined (they have to return every other semester until they've worked at least three terms).
- More information can be found at: <http://www.coop.gatech.edu>

Jobs Specific to Management (MGT) Students

- E-mail your job postings to Lauren McDow at lauren.mcdow@mgt.gatech.edu, and she will email them directly to all of our Management students.
- The students can apply:
 - Through Career Buzz
 - Through your Website, or
 - By e-mailing their resumes to you

Whether or not you post using the first two options above, we recommend that you utilize the third option (Jobs Specific to MGT Students) for all management positions so that we can communicate your opportunities directly to all of our business students. Inclusion of your job postings in our weekly e-mail to our students generates more applications for the opportunity and raises awareness of your company at our College. Based on your recruiting needs, we can combine the above methods so that you can build a program that works best for you. Thank you for including our students in your recruiting plans.
